HOW TO WRITE A WANT AD

First know what you want to say. Then say it. Use simple words. Make your meaning absolutely clear. Leave nothing to the reader's imagination—as this want ad does:

FOR RENT—1195 Jones street, 6-room house, $25.00. Address OWNER, care News-Times.

This advertiser was "penny wise and pound foolish." He gave as little information it is safe to say he never had an answer.

What about the condition of the house? Plenty of closets? Lighting? Heating? Has the house an attic? Cellar? Or both? Is there a rear yard? Front yard? Rear porch? Front porch? And many other details?

No one but the owner knows. Surely one should not expect results from such meager information. And there's not one word about car line. Even though some may know, there are others who don't. And strangers are arriving and going on when may stay for good. Now, read this for an example of how to write a want ad that will bring replies:

FOR RENT—1183 Jones street, 6-room house in splendid condition, with large lot. In every living room and in the rear hall; one block from car line; electricity and gas; steam heat; modern tile bathroom with large tub and fine shower with curtain; modern kitchen with modern gas stove; practically new; large cement cellar; fair-sized front yard; 75-foot rear yard; large front and rear porch. Get key next door; $25.00 month. Address OWNER, care News-Times.

Here is information from which we form a mental picture of this house. If we were seeking one in such a location this want ad would send us scurrying out there and get some one would get ahead of us.

What if the rent and cost a little more, it is bound to pay for the inquiries it will bring—and inquiries from prospective tenants are what the advertiser wants or he wouldn't advertise.

This applies to the writing of all want ads, whether it is a house you wish to rent, a business you wish to sell, or a farm you wish to buy.

Give ALL the information you would want WHERE YOU THE READER. Then bring it to The News-Times, or

PERKINS SAYS MOOSE TO WAIT

William Allen White Also States Action for G. O. P. is to be Awaited.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Conflicting reports regarding a plan of leaders, headed by George W. Perkins, to have the progressive convention postpone action upon nominations until some tangible result upon a nominee is apprehended in the republican convention followed Monday's meeting of the progressive national committee. Many leaders favored the plan of marking time. Mr. Perkins announced Monday night that the convention would not nominate "right off the bat" but would probably wait for a time at least.

On the other hand, former Rep. Victor Murdock of Kansas, national committee chairman, asserted that the committee had reached no agreement to withhold action upon nominations in the convention. So did Secy Oscar K. Davis and others.

White Says They'll Wait.
Against these assertions, William Allen White, national committeeman from Kansas, declared the committee had agreed to have the convention postpone consideration of nominations until Saturday, awaiting republican action. He said a "steering committee" had been made to launch a publicity campaign to boost Col. Roosevelt among republican delegates and confer with a republican committee looking to join the nominations.

Many delegates were openly and vigorously outspoken Monday night against delay. Some appeared determined to force immediate nomination of Col. Roosevelt on Wednesday, the opening day. Several leaders expressed doubt Monday night that the delegates can be held in check and remain virtually idle while the republicans are deliberating.

The meeting called Monday for Tuesday afternoon with chairmen of all state delegations, it was understood, is to thresh out the question of delaying the nominations. A final decision may be reached after the temper of the delegates themselves is sounded through the chairmen of the delegations.

Leaders favoring the program of delay were much perturbed over William Allen White's announcement that the national committee had definitely and formally decided upon such action. They frankly disliked the possible effect upon delegates of the demanding Col. Roosevelt's nomination regardless of republican action.

Reporters Argue.
Prompt and emphatic denial that the committee had acted came from Chairman Murdock, F. A. Vanvalkenburg and others. In the committee room after the meeting Murdock and White had a friendly dispute.

"William, you're a liar," Murdock jocularly shouted across the room to his fellow Kansan.

"You're the liar, Vic," White smilingly retorted.

"I'm a newspaper reporter and I guess I would have known about it," said Murdock.

"I am some reporter myself," White rejoined.

FORMAN ON THE MODERN WOMAN.

Justus Miles Forman, in his three last novels, may be said to have drawn three sides of the modern woman. In "The Opening Room" the heroine found out a way to serve "the cause" when she discovered the role of militant suffragist; was not for her; in "The Blind Spot," a rich New York girl became interested in schemes for civic betterment, and in his last novel, "The Twin Sisters," the girl shows that she cares for other things as well.

"I want to be petted and doted," she says, "and put upon a little pedestal. I want to be told that I'm pretty and that I inspire my man to do whatever it is he does better than he did it before. I want—children. . . . But there's something more—something that has been slowly developing in us women through the long climb upward from savagery. We're grown and we want—at least I think we have. We've grown a desire to use our brains."

SPLENDID RESULTS DURING FIRST WEEK

Mr. A. L. JOHNSON, OF RILEY, IND., SAID: "QUAKER HERB EXTRACT HAS DONE MORE GOOD THAN ANYTHING ELSE I USED."

THE LONDON DRUG COMPANY'S STORE, NORTHEAST CORNER MICHIGAN AND WAYNE STREETS IS FISHER'S SOUTH BEND HEADQUARTERS

The public will be interested in the following case, which was reported to Fisher:

Mr. A. L. Johnson, who lives at Riley, Ind., called at the drug store in Terre Haute to get some Quaker Herb Extract and while there he told of the great results derived from this remarkable remedy in about a week's use.

Mr. Johnson had suffered for several years from a severe stomach trouble and rheumatism. He would be at the drug store and had his stomach and back aches, and had pains in his stomach and back. He felt sore and stiff all over his body when he rose in the morning. His appetite was irregular. He had used several remedies for his trouble, but he got only a little temporary relief.

Mr. Johnson got some Quaker

OVERLAND COMMON STOCK IS QUARTERED

TOLEDO, June 6.—Sanction has just been secured from the state of Ohio and the New York stock exchange to reduce the par value of each share of common stock of the Willys-Overland Co. of Toledo, Ohio, from $100 to $25 a share. This change has been made in order to create a wider market and more general distribution of the stock of the giant automobile industry, which has proved one of the most popular investments on the market in recent years.

The Willys-Overland stock, which has been steadily advancing during the past six months, reached its highest point during the past week, when it climbed to 27 3/4.

A notice of the reduction in par value will be sent to all holders of common stock, requesting a return of the old certificates in order that a reissue of the new paper can be made—four $25 par value shares being exchanged for each $100 par value share.

One Killed, Seven Shot, In Church Riot

JACKSON, Ky., June 6.—Green Noble was killed, Boozie Fugate was fatally wounded and six other men were shot during a fight Sunday at a church on Leatherwood creek, ten miles from Jackson.

According to accounts of the affair which reached here today, a number of men near the church were disturbing the worshippers and opened fire when Noble and an officer attempted to arrest them. Noble and Fugate, a bystander, fell at the first volley. Meanwhile, women faint and the congregation was in an uproar. The men members rushed to the aid of the officer and when they appeared a general fight ensued. Eventually the disturbers were driven into the mountains.

HUGHES IN FIRST TALK LAUDS AMERICAN FLAG

Tells Young Women Graduates It Means America First and Undivided Allegiance.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—In the seclusion of the national cathedral school lawn, where he was presenting an American flag to the honor graduates, Justice Charles E. Hughes Monday made his first public address since the opening of the pre-convention campaign. He told the young women graduates that the flag meant America first, an undivided allegiance and a nation united and equal to its tasks.

"This flag means more than association and reward," said the justice. "It is the symbol of our national unity, our national endeavor, our national aspiration. It tells you of the struggle for independence, of union preserved, of liberty and union one and inseparable, of the sacrifices of brave men and women to whom the ideals and honor of this nation have been dearer than life."

"It means America first; it means an undivided allegiance. It means America united, strong and efficient, equal to her tasks. It means that you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors; that to each generation comes its patriotic duty, and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure, as those before you have sacrificed and endured, rests the national hope."

"It speaks of equal rights, of the inspiration of free institutions exemplified and vindicated; of liberty under law intelligently conceived and impartially administered; there is not a thread in it but some self-indulgence, weakness and rapacity. It is eloquent of our common interests, outweighing all divergencies of opinion; and of our common destiny."

"Given as a prize to those who have the highest standing, it happily enforces the lesson that intelligence and zeal must go together; that discipline must accompany emotion; and that we must ultimately rely upon enlightened opinion."

GARY SAYS U. S. LEADS NATIONS

Declares We Must Have Open Ports in Every Country.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Declaring that the United States rapidly was becoming the leader among the nations of the world and that it was "high time for everyone to understand that a large majority of the people of the United States will insist on the protection of every faculty to protect and honorably to further the interests of their own country," Elbert H. Gary spoke here at the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute on what he considered "momentous questions."

"We believe thoroughly," he said, "in the regulation and restraint of business in such a way as to prevent harm and injury to the public interest; but we do not agree that the proper way to prevent harm is to destroy the agencies which may be and generally are utilized for the promotion of good."

"Our export business is large and increasing," the total exports for March of this year were $411,476,338 in value, an increase of $114,764,786 over March, 1915. The total for the nine months ending March 31 was $2,997,172,472, an increase of $1,966,094,603 over the total for the same period of the preceding year.

Markets of World Rapidly Multiplying.
"The markets of the world are multiplying and increasing in importance. We are hoping for open ports in every country. We have not heretofore had our proportionate share of this trade. One reason for the limited amount of our export business in the past is found in the lack of ships owned, controlled and operated by Americans. When the present wars are ended these conditions will be even worse than they have ever been before unless there are adopted laws or amendments that will place our merchant marine practically on an equality with that of other nations."

"We are in favor of peace for our nation, not at any price, but we would, if necessary, pay liberally for it. We would fight any other nation, but only defensively. However, we do not wish for war and we believe it is not necessary. We desire to have our administration at Washington maintain a strictly neutral attitude concerning the belligerent nations. When the war is ended, Justice will be done. We speed the day—we wish to be on terms of intimate and cordial relations with them all."

Must Protect Commerce of Seas.
"If the United States is to assume and maintain the important position among nations that has been thrust on her, she must be possessed of the same elements of power and strength that others have. She must be prepared to protect her commerce on the seas. She must be ready to support other nations in the insistence that the ports of all foreign friendly nations shall remain free and open to all. And even more important to consider, we would be able to exert a powerful influence in aiding and thus compelling international peace."

"Fake Remedies" Advertised

No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand in striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womanhood. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.—Advt.

Quaker Herb Extract

He began taking it himself, and gave it to his two boys. He returned for more of the remedy and said:

"Quaker Herb Extract has done more for me than anything else I used. I have had stomach trouble and rheumatism, and had pains in my breast and soreness all over my body. I have had no more of these pains in my breast since the second day after starting to use this remedy."

"I gave some to my two boys who had had stomach trouble and both of them are much better."

Fisher says: "I want ALL those people who need a REAL 'cause-re-moving' remedy to get Quaker Herb Extract AT ONCE. WHY DELAY, when I am showing such GRAND results right here in Indiana?"

"Quaker Herb Extract is for the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the intestines and the blood. THIS is the time of the year when a blood-purifying remedy and tonic should be taken. There is NONE better than Quaker Herb Extract as it will expel all germs or worms from the system, while it is being taken. IN THAT respect it is DIFFERENT from AND BETTER than ANY other remedy."

"I am at the London Drug Co.'s store, northeast corner Michigan and Wayne streets. Quaker Herb Extract is $1.00 a single bottle or six bottles for $5.00. Special trial treatment of three bottles for $2.50. Oil of Balm for all pains or aches, is 25 cents and 50 cents a bottle."

"I will send the Quaker Remedies by express to out of town residents, on receipt of price in cash or a money order."—Advt.

You have nothing to lose and everything to gain, and if we were not perfectly sure of our work we could not do business this way very long, but instead, have been doing so for years. We have adopted this plan because so many have been swindled by quacks and fakers; not one of them will permit a patient to deposit his money until a cure has been effected.

Many patients have told us that at first they hesitate to begin treatment with us, fearing that on account of our great reputation the fee would be more than they could afford to pay. Our fees are always moderate, wholly within your means, and at no time more than you are willing to pay. DON'T let money matters keep you from beginning treatment. If you will call and see us we have a system by which you can begin treatment and pay as you can.
